The Asian Research Institute for International Social Work (ARIISW), Shukutoku University, has been encouraging researchers in Asia, especially Buddhist social work researchers, to evoke discussion on the question in the above title. ARIISW has published books in the Buddhist Social Work Research Explorer projects, which concluded in March 2024. ARIISW will cordially welcome Professor Abye Tasse, Past President of the International Association of Schools of Social Work, who at present is leading the Global Agenda Project (2020-2030) on behalf of the three Global Organizations (the International Association of Schools of Social Work, the International Council for Social Welfare, and the International Federation of Social Workers) as the keynote lecturer of the 9th International Academic Forum on Saturday, February 15, from 10 am (Japan Standard Time)!

BSW will evoke a small but spreading discussion. ARIISW will keep working for social work for the entire world in international social work research.
